It has been busy in school, with some great science work going on, using the outdoors to look at the environment. The topics that the children are studying this term really seem to be capturing their imagination, from the local study of Salt in Cheshire, to learning about the oceans of the world, castles and Anglo-Saxons – it is great to see their enthusiasm for learning.

The after-school sports clubs are running well, and children are enjoying the multi-skills, football and gymnastics activities.

Please remember to use the school website to check on other activities in your child's class – the blogs help you find out some of the areas that they are working on. It is already heading towards another half term and we are hoping that some of the more usual events may be able to take place for the children, such as Sports Day – it remains to be seen if we will be able to have adult attendance for such activities.

PARENTS' EVENING APPOINTMENTS:

It was lovely to see many parents face to face, and back in school for some parents' evening appointments, and we were happy to accommodate anyone who preferred phone calls.

TREETOPS: The children in Treetops had great fun going down to the woodland area, hunting for ladybirds. They found two! This became the inspiration to make some of their own. They found facts about ladybirds and had great fun hunting for them.

POND DIPPING: Class One have been doing some practical science work and went out to the pond to see what they could find. Even though they were rained off one day, they went out prepared for the weather the next day.
